

Argument: a
21st Century skill!

Will your writers
be ready?

Developing the Argument

Plan to Attend a Virtual Seminar

Sponsored by

The Louisville Writing Project

We will explore.....

First Session

- The revised on-demand writing rubric from KDE
- Exemplary models of opinion & argument writing
- Strategies to develop independent/reflective writers

In order to

Second Session

- Identify resources to use with writers
- Investigate student engagement strategies
- Develop an Action Plan so your students are ready for college, career, and future high-stakes testing experiences

Participate in two 90-minute sessions

Synchronous with asynchronous follow-up activities;
Reconvene virtually to support implementation (TBD by group)

$100 registration fee

Additional participants from the same school, $50 each!

Grades K-5 Wednesdays, October 28 and November 11, 4:00 pm-5:30 pm EST
Grades 6-12 Mondays, November 9 and 16, 4:00 pm-5:30 pm EST

EILA credit available

Registration for the LWP Virtual Argument Academy

Name: _____ Position _____

District: _____ School _____

Address: _____

Street

City

State

Zip

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Additional participants from the same school:

Name: _____ Position _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Name: _____ Position _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Name: _____ Position _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

 First Participant $100 ___ Additional Participants @ $50 = $ _____

Total: $ _____ P.O Number _____ or Check # _____

Email to linda.mcfadin@louisville.edu OR fax to (502) 852-4634

OR mail to

Jean Wolph, Louisville Writing Project Director

CEHD 240E University of Louisville

1905 E. 1st Street Louisville, KY 40292

For questions about the program, please contact

Sheryl Block, LWP Coordinator of Professional Learning, srbloc01@louisville.edu or call (502) 645-1140.

